While in the marines Nile visited Bessie Cone Norton in Guyton, Georgia. He was introduced to her when she was 11 years old by his Marine buddy, Sidney Taylor who was dating Bessie's sister, Susan Victoria "Vic" Cone. Bessie wrote to Nile while he was in te Marines. When he got out of the Marines, he married Bessie. They got on a boat with Sidney and Vic to go to Baltimore to look for work. He worked for several years at Bethlehem Steel Corp and in their shipyards during World War II. He later worked for Carr-Lowrey Glass factory for many years. He also worked for Baltimore Porcelain Steel Corporation. When he retired he worked as a night watchman for a while. Then he tended his garden. He always had the best garden in the neighborhood. He was a very strict disciplinarian with his children. He was also very helpful to all of his neighbors.

He was an audiophile and made reel-to-reel, 8-track and cassette tapes of his favorite comedians and music. He liked to listen to the Baltimore Orioles on the radio and wath them on TV.

He never owned a car.

It was said that he visited every state except for Alaska and Hawaii.

The Fishes

William Fish, and his wife, Sallie Woolbert Fish were living in Stroudsburg, Pennsylvania in the year 1850. The Fish ancestry was generally English, but the woolbert side was Pennsylvania Dutch. There is not much known of earlier ancestors on the Fish side, and nothing of the ancestry on the Woolbert side. William Fish's father, Abner, was a canal boat man on the "Delaware-Lackawaxon Canal". He lived to be 97, and my father remembered him very well. He loved to tell of his canal boat days and told tall tales of his fights with "The bloody, redmouthed Irishmen" with whom he came in contact.

William Fish, Abner's oldest son, was a stone mason, and in 1850 his second son, James Stalbert was born. The Fish men of this generation were big men, around six feet in height, and of some of them it was said that they didn't know their own strength. James Stalbert was called Stalbert by his father and mother, but he soon acquired the name, "Stub", which stuck with him all of his life. There was a good reason--Stub was a runt. His mature height was five feet and four inches, but he was no weakling and grew up to be a powerful "little man." The Fishes seemed to have lived in the Stroudsburg vicinity from at least Revolutionary War days, but in 1856 William Fish moved his family to Iowa. William's brother, Pete, had moved to Iowa the year previously, and half of a double log cabin was waiting for them. The family took the train from Pennsylvania to Rock Island, Illinois, ferried the river to Davenport, bought a team, a couple of cows and a crate of chickens and drove by team and wagon across Eastern Iowa through Des Moines and on twenty miles to the little town of DeSoto in souther Iowa. James, or Stub, had gone to school for one winter in Pennsylvania, but the move to Iowa ended his schooling for Iowa was almost raw prairie, and civilization had touched it very lightly at that time. William worked as a stone mason for several years, and there are still in the 1970's a few buildings in he DeSoto area with limestone foundations which he "laid up".

William also farmed many years in the Adel and Waukee areas. He lived to be 88 years old, and he and his wife, who had died much earlier, are buried in a cemetary [sic] south of Wuakee. I can barely remember him, but he always seemed grumpy to me. Someone once told me that he like [sic] little girls better than little boys, and I remember that he liked to hold my sister, Doris, on his lap, but that he didn;t want anything to do with me. I can remember the day of his funeral. It was a bitter cold day, and the funeral party went in bobsleds the ten miles from my grandparents' farm to the Waukee cemetary [sic] and return. The funeral was an all day affair with only brief services at home and at the cemetary, with most of the time being spent on the road.

I spent many summers on my grandfather's farm, and as he sat on the front porch during the long {the text ended here]

I have a biographical excerpt from the Adel, Dallas County, Iowa Quasquicentennial book (period covered 1847-1972) regarding the John Longmire family: One of the earliest pioneer families of the Adel area was John Longmire who came by covered wagon and four ox team, from near Wheeling, Penn., with his wife Melinda, to whom he had married on 1 Jan 1828. In Feb. 1846 John Longmire and Tristram

Ancestors of Nile August Fish Sr

Davis came and made claims of land on So. Raccoon River bottoms in Adams township. The following May they moved their families here. Fourteen children were born to John and Melinda Longmire. The original homestead was occupied by their descendants for over a hundred years. Their ninth child, Leroy Longmire, owned and operated the farm with his two sons, Clarence and Eldon, until his death in 1948. The house, one of the show places of the community was completed of walnut cut from the farm, taken to a mill in Des Moines to be sawed into lumber. LeRoy Longmire was born in a log cabin 15 Feb 1851. He married Miss Emmerette Winans 5 Jan 1873. To this union were born, Don, who died at an early age, Clarence Charles Eldon, Grace, Dell and Claude. An uncle of Mrs. Longmire, BTU Winans was a pioneer groceryman in Adel. LeRoy was in active management of the land for many years and also managed a produce business in Adel for thirteen years, driving back and forth to work. He purchased land in southern Texas and lived there part of the time while his two sons, Clarence and Eldon operated the home farm. In his later years he spent many winters in California, returning home in the spring. His wife passed away in 1924, and he then made his home with his son Clarence and later with his daughter Grace, in Des Moines. He died at the age of 97 years on 7 Jun 1948. All but two of his children preceded him in death. The only descendants of LeRoy Longmire, still residing in the area (in 1972) is Mrs. Richard Wiles (Wynette) of Adel, and Mrs. Francis (Dorothy) Daugherty of Van Meter, daughters of Eldon Longmire. Several family burials are in the Longmire-Emehiser Cemetery in Dallas County. -- Sharon Glenn

From the info below, it could be assumed that when Peter moved to Chicago, he took Abner with him. Sometime after Margaret died (1866) and before 1870, Abner moved in with Peter. We can place Peter and Abner in Iowa in 1880, Peter in Chicago as early as 1884 and Abner's headstone shows he died at the end of 1891. After living with Peter for at least 10 years and maybe as long as 18 years (1866 to 1884), it seems very likely that Abner moved with Peter to Chicago. Abner's grandson's biography (Adrian L Fish) says says Abner died in Chicago while living with his son Peter. Therefore, it is highly likely that Abner died in Chicago and was brought back to Iowa to be buried in Xenia cemetery.

1860 Fed Census shows Abner and wife Margaret living next door to Peter Fish's family
1870 Fed Census shows Abner living with son Peter in Adams Township in Dallas County, Iowa
1880 Fed Census shows Abner living with son Peter 's family in Adams Township in Dallas County, Iowa
Oct 9, 1888 There is a Peter Fish From PA in Chicago Voter List showing he lived in Chicago for 4 years.
1900 Fed Census shows Peter Fish is living In Chicago with his second Wife (Frances) and a Neice (either Terrie or Tessie Travis) from Iowa.

Abner H. Fish was born on January 1, 1795 in Northampton (now Pike) County, PA. He married Margaret Kettle in 1825 in NJ. Margaret was born on January 10, 1807; probably in NJ. Abner was a farmer and laborer. Abner died on December 6, 1891 in Wauke, Iowa. Margaret died on November 8, 1866. They are buried in the Xenia Cemetery, Dallas County, Iowa. Peter was living with his parents in Pocono Township, Monroe County, PA when the 1850 census was taken. The family moved to Dallas County, IA in 1853. He was in Union Township, Dallas County, IA in 1856. They were living in Adel Township, Dallas County, IA in 1860. In 1870, Abner and his second wife, Amelia Foster, were living in Des Moines Township, Dallas County, IA. Abner's sons George, James, and Abner, Jr. were also in Iowa. Amelia Foster married Abner on March 28, 1868 in Dallas County, IA. Peter Fish had two sisters and three brothers listed – Juley [some researchers believe her name to be Beulah], Caroline, George, James, and Abner. The Iowa Census shows Abner, Robert, Sarah and Harriet as his siblings. All of these children were born in Ohio.

Bob,

I found a George Fish on the 1850 Census for Belpre, Washington Co. Ohio, who is listed as 23, Pa. with wife Hannah, 21, Oh, and two infant daughters, Jane, 2, Oh, and Deborah, 4 mo. Oh. Also listed with them is Deborah, 69, birth place unknown (probably his mother). Is this your George?
kathleen

Bob,

I did find George and Hannah Fish on the 1870 Benton Co. Ia census with their two youngest children Sarah and Robert. It appears they migrated to Iowa some time between 1863 and 1870 because Robert is four and born in Ia. But I find them on the 1880 census in Wapello, Louisa Co. Ia. Again, Sarah and Robert are listed and now there is another daughter, who is 7. The puzzle is who is Henry Fish who is 48, Oh, and his wife J. Elizabeth and all their children who appear right next to George and Hannah Fish on the Wapello Census? It states that George Fish's father was born in Pennsylvania, and his mother was born in New York. Henry Fish however lists his Father as born in Pa. but his mother is listed as born in Ohio. Could Henry be a younger Half-brother of George? Thanks for the information you given me to trace this line.

Kathleen .. In 1850 my Fish line had already moved to Ohio and Iowa. There were two brothers, George and William Fish.

George was in Washington County, Ohio and William had left Ohio and was in Benton County, Iowa.

Family records show that George was born in Armstrong County, PA around 1824.

Most of the early Fish in Washington County show their place of birth in PA. I've never been able to make any connects though. I did find that Debora Hooks was the mother of George and William and you will find a lot of Hooks in Armstrong County starting in 1800 census records.

Family records say Debora Hooks was from England.

Bob

I found out that a lot can be learned about an ancestor by finding information about their children or even grandchildren. Abner Fish is one of my gggg-grandparents. One day while googling I typed in a combination of terms. I forget what all. I found Abner's grandson's biography <<http://ftp.rootsweb.com/pub/usgenweb/sd/biography/doane2/fish.txt>> from a county in South Dakota. In it were several sentences about his grandfather Abner. Among other things it stated that Abner had not died in Iowa as always thought but in Chicago where he was living with a son. Abner's daughter Buelah, my ggg-grandmother, had a son from a second marriage. His name was Watson Knight. In a short booklet about growing up he wrote several items about Abner Fish. The picture shows one of Watson's recollections about Abner.

Adrian L. Fish Biography This biography appears on pages 1072-1073 in "History of South Dakota" by Doane Robinson, Vol. II (1904)

Says that Abner died In his son Peter's house in Chicago at 98 years of age.

From Les Marcuson's Website

<http://les-familygenealogy.blogspot.com/search?q=fish>

In 1885 my gggg-grandfather Abner Fish (age 90) was living with his granddaughter, Clara Oberwetter, and her family in section two of Adams Township in Dallas County, Iowa. Next to the Oberwetter family home was the home of William Fish, Abner's son and the father of Clara. Also in close proximity were the farms of two of William's sons, Edwin and Wilson. The picture shows section two of Adams Township marked in black. My guess is the that the Oberwetter home was in the lower half of section two.

Abner Fish (gggg-grandfather on my mother's side) – Abner Fish was born January 1, 1795 in Northampton County, Pennsylvania <<http://www.pagenweb.org/imagemap.html>> to Asa and Polly Fish. He married Margaret Kettle in 1825. They had seven children. Approximately 1853 Abner and his family and their spouses and children migrated to Dallas County, Iowa <<http://iagenweb.org/state/map.php>>. Margaret died in 1866 and Abner remarried in 1868 to Amelia Gettis. For the last twenty years of his life he lived with his son Peter. He died in Chicago on December 6, 1891. He is buried along with his first wife in the Xenia cemetery <<http://www.rootsweb.com/~iadallas/cemetery/cemeteries.htm>>in Dallas Country. His daughter Beulah is my great-great-great grandmother.

This must be a different Abner (Perhaps Abner K?)

About Iowa Marriages, 1851-1900

This database contains marriage information from various counties in the U.S. state of Iowa from 1851-1900. Information that may be found in this database for each individual includes their name, spouse's name, marriage date, and marriage county.

Obtained by the United States in the Louisiana Purchase, Iowa became a territory in 1838 and a state in 1846. This database of Iowa marriage records has just been updated to include Lee and Scott county marriage records, in addition to the previously posted records of Adair, Appanoose, Boone, Dallas, Greene, Guthrie, Hamilton, Johnson, Lee, Louisa, Lucas, Marion, Monroe, Muscatine, Polk, Plymouth, Scott, Warren, Webster, Woodbury, and Worth counties, between 1851 and 1900. Taken from microfilm copies of original county documents, each record provides spouses' names, marriage date, and county of residence.

General Notes: Also 29 APR 1788

1 NOTE The following information was provided by Liz Wendelken, Powell, TN.

George Longmire was born in Virginia and died in Will Co., IL. Sarah Haynes was the dau. of George & Margret Haynes of Buffalo Springs, near Greasy Cove, Washington Co., (now Unicoi Co.) TN. I have a copy of a letter written by one of George Longmire's descendants, Maude L. Shaffer, who lived in Tacoma, WA, written in 1956 to Mrs. James L. Holman of Honey Grove, TX, who wrote:

"My grandfather was George Longmire, born either in TN or VA in 1786. I think he married Sarah Haynes in 1806 in Carter Co., Tenn. I know my great uncle Joe was born in Washington Co., TN. George moved to Indiana sometime before 1820, as my grandfather James was born then. He had 12 children. George Longmire later must have moved to Illinois as his will is probated at Joliet, Will County, Illinois. George Longmire served in the war of 1812 and was given a grant of land in Illinois Territory. James Longmire, my grandfather came to Washington from Indiana in 1853 with his family, the year Washington was created a territory, and made quite a name for himself in the early days. He discovered the mineral springs at the foot of Mt. Ranier that still bear his name, and the Post Office, too, in Ranier National Park. He made this discovery in 1883. He cut a rough trail through the dense wilderness 60 miles from his home of Yenn Pararies to his mineral springs in 1884 and operated a health resort until his death in 1897, then my father Elcania Longmire took over the management until his death in 1915. There are no Longmires living there now, for it all belongs to the government. Mother sold her share in 1916, asking the Ranier National Park to retain the name Longmire. I am a woman of 84 years."

Ancestors of Nile August Fish Sr

Thomas Jefferson Fish is the son of William R. Fish, who is buried in same family plot as him. Thomas Jefferson Fish 15 March 1828, godparents were Anthony and Catharine Transue.(probably brother and wife of his mother, Mary Transue. Thomas died 3 May 1909, Wooddale, Monroe Co. Pa. His wife is Julia Ann. I believe her last name is Transue. I have his son Walter's death cert. and his mother is listed as "Betty" Transue. Don't know if Julia Ann used the nickname Betty. I have found a Julia Ann Transue, d/o Jacob Transue and Mary LaBar. Thomas' parents were William Fish, born 8 June 1809 in NJ, died 26 March 1900 and Mary Transue born 16 May 1805 in Monroe Co. Pa. died 10 March 1881 Susquehanna Co. Pa. Buried Methodist Church Cem. West Auburn, Susquehanna Co. Pa. d/o Elias Transue and CatrinaMiller. I believe that Asa and Polly Fish are the parents of William. Asa's father was a John Fish. I found this in a book "Delaware Water Gap" by Brodhead. Page 250. Stated John Fish was the father of Ashbel Fish and grandfather of "fighting" Abner, who lived near Stroudsburg a few years ago. This "fighting" Abner is the same person you listed: Abner and 1st wife, Amelia Foster Gettis and his second wife, Margaret Kettle. I have found a John Fish, who was in the right place and right time to be Asa's father, but can't prove it right now. Need help!! If I can prove that this John Fish is the right person, we can have the Fishline back to 1500 England.

Asa married Polly (Mary)-[8323] [MRIN: 2642] in 1824 in Pennsylvania.

John Fish IS the name of Asa's father...

Is this the CORRECT John Fish? We do not know for sure yet.

My DNA tests reveal that our guy is not of the English line and therefore not he son of Capt. William Fish. Conjecture: Capt William Fish is probably the North Carolina Fish unrelated to us.

Some facts we have:

John Fish was a militia member on 1 Sep 1763, was a Lieutenant under Colonel Jacob Stroud in 1779, in 1781 he was scouting in defense of Northampton County frontiers. He was a part of the Battle of Germantown.

Private: 8th Company, Sixth Battalion of Northampton County Militia - 1778

Lieutenant of the 2nd Company, Fifth Battalion, Northampton County Militia - 1780 under Capt Timothy Jayne

First Lieutenant of a Company of Seven Months Men under Capt John Van Etten, volunteers 1781

Sometime between 1745-1747 he marries Rebecca Harris.

He does surveying with Samuel Preston on 7 Nov 1750 and, Jun 1787.

Ancestors of Nile August Fish Sr

John Fish is listed as a resident in Lower Smithfield Township in the Delaware Valley between 1750 and 1755 and a resident of Middle Smithfield Township around 1780

"Jacob Stroud was born at Anwell, NJ in 1735. He, with three brothers, entered the provincial army, and participated in the engagement at "Fort William Henry" and at the "Plains of Abraham", at the taking of Quebec, where the commanders of both the English and French armies, General Wolf and General Montcalm, lost their lives.

Jacob Stroud, John Fish*, and Mathias Hutchinson were the three persons nearest General Wolf when he fell, and carried him behind the rocks before he expired."

*John Fish was the father of Ashbel Fish and grandfather of fighting Abner who lived near Stroudsburg a few years ago.

Hon. Paul S Preston, from whom this information is derived, calls them 'a giant race of men.'"

More notes from Glenda Card:

John Fish 1730-1798, I believe is Asa Fish father. Can't really prove it with facts. But info in different books, etc. This John Fish is in the right place, right time and hanging out with right people. John's son Robert Fish 1760-1830, I have 7 children for him. Four of his son are listed in the same church as my William R. Fish 1809-1900, Evangelical Reformed Con. Church (formerly Lutheran Reformed Church). These four sons go to Enfield, Tompkins Co. NY, later on 3 of Asa and Polly children go there too. While I am thinking about the church in Monroe Co, I don't believe the story on Andrew Jackson Fish, being adopted by the Fish is true. His birth is recorded at the church. Being born July 13, 1829 to William and Mary "Polly" Fisch, sponsors were Peter and Susan Raub. His brother, Thomas Jefferson was born 16 March 1828, sponsors were Andrew and Catharine Transue. Only two Fish at church after 1822 were William and Mary Fish and Joseph and Sally Fish. (Joseph is s/o Robert Fish). Joseph later goes to Enfield, NY.

John Fish 1730-1798, probably married 4 times. Rebecca Harris, Sarah Scott, Ann Amelia How and Margaret Williams. Married Rebecca in Bucks Co. PA. others in Northampton Co. NY (which was once part of Bucks Co.).

MY NOTE: Ann Amelia How DID NOT marry John FISH - she married John FISS of Philadelphia (this John FISS married again much later - around 1799 also in Philadelphia)

NOTE by Helene in the PA genforums:

Fish, John, PA Line S6840 (Rev. War Abstracts, Pension file) a daughter Ann Gauger(Goucher) made aff'dt 26 Feb 1858 Monroe County, Pa., aged 61 a resident of Stroudsburg, Pa., and she stated that the soldier died 9 March 1798, leaving a widow Margaret (Williams) who he had married in 1793 and she died 1 March 1841 leaving 2 children, Ann Gauger(Goucher) and Esley Dailey, wife of Philip Dailey* (line I have been researching) of Oxford Township in Warren County, New Jersey aged 64 in 1858, soldier's son Michael Fish made aff'dt 30 Aug 1850 in Monroe County, Pa., and he stated that the soldier lived in Middle Smithfield Township in Northampton County, (Now Monroe) at enlistment and he stated soldier died 14 Oct 1840 "(this was soldier's son's death)" a son John Fish Jr. was referred to as deceased in 1854, according to William Williams, the said John Fish Jr. had died in 1840 and if lived in 1852 would have been 80. It appears that the Michael Fish who had applied was the soldier's grandson and not a son of the soldier. The John Fish Jr. was a brother of the mother of William Williams, it seems the legitimate claim was by the widow's daughters Ann Goucher(Goucher) and Esley

The Westcotts were the most uncompromising of Baptist families. They were exceedingly proud of having, through Stukeley Westcott and his wife, a hand in the historic first Baptist Church in America. The tradition of this has come straight down to the present generation of Rose's descendants, and for the first few generations one of them who dared join some other church was held to have almost put himself outside of the pale of the family. Elizabeth impressed her Baptist principles as strongly on her family, as her mother, Rose, had done on hers. And that is all we really know of those two generations, except the names of their children.

James Greene(4) and Elizabeth had Sarah, born in 1728, Ann, Benjamin, Jeremiah, Dinah, Abel and Deborah.

Benjamin Greene(5), [James(4), John(3), James(2), John(1),] born Aug. 28, 1734, in East Greenwich. Married May 25, 1760, to Comfort Carr, who was also of Lascelle descent. His home was in West Greenwich. Of his children, James, Anstress and Benjamin, there are only birth records.

Caleb Greene(6), 1764 — 1823. Had a son Samuel.

Virtue Greene-Matteson(6), b. May 3, 1767 ; m Edmund Matteson, her distant cousin. Virtue was a second wife. All of Edmund's children that are known to be hers, were Virtue, who married her mother's cousin, John Greene. (Abel(5), James(4), etc.); Lydia, who married Stephen King ; and Stukeley, who had Ira, John and Stukeley of his own.

Jeremiah Greene (5), b. June 1, 1736 ; ra. Freelove Hopkins, 1760. They had Russell, Barbara, Gardiner, Waite, Jeremiah, Abial and Ann. Jeremiah was a Revolutionary soldier.

Dinah Greene-Kittle(5), b. Feb. 5, 1739; m. Edward Kittle, March 27, 1762. The name is now written Kittelle or Kettelle.

Asa Kittelle(6). 1770 — 1849. M. in his 50th year to Eunice Pendock, whose father came from France. She was 19. She died at 38, the mother of 14 or 15 children.

Of these, Freelove became Mrs. John Sheldon ; Lydia m. Isaac Peck ; Lois m.

Robert Pierce ; Mary m. Benjamin Arnold. All these had children. Albert F. m. Sara

E. Matteson, his cousin's daughter. No children. See Kittelle Chapter.

Elizabeth Kittelle-Brown(6), m. Nicholas Brown.

Amos Kittelle(6), d. Oct. 10, 1849, m. his relative. Thankful Straight. They had Lucy A. who m. John Waite ; Isaiah, who m. Susan Geer ; and Caroline, who m. Albert Baker. All these had children.

Rufus Kittelle(6), m. (1) Susan Greene. (2) Lydia Rogers. His children were Senaca, James, Thomas, Rufus, Noel, Caleb and three daughters.

Samuel Kittelle(6). Children were Mrs. Celinda Spencer, Mrs. Ruth Bates, and Benjamin.

Silas Kittelle(6). He m. a Tarbox, and had a son Samuel.

Ephraim Kittelle(6), m. July 21, 1799, Newie (Renewed) Briggs of King blood. [Renewed(4), Sarah King(3), Magdalen(2), John(1)] One of their daughters married her cousin, Gideon Hopkins. Their daughter Dinah m. Joshua Fish of Ichabod and Hannah Andrews-Fish, and had Isaac, Rebecca, Joshua, Ichabod, Lydia, Susan and George W. Ephraim and Newie had also sons, George, Othniel, William and Peleg Kittelle, and a dau. Almira, who m. Philip Davis.

James Kitteile(6). Married his cousin, Elizabeth King. See Kittelle Chapter. Abel Greene(5), b. Oct. 14, 1741 ; d. 1828 ; m. Ann (Nancy) King, 1764. Abel was a Revolutionary soldier. He and his sons had a grist-mill and a saw-mill. His wife was of the La Valley-King family. They had nine children, seven of them sons. Obediah, Abel Jr., and John Greene all moved to Susquehanna Co., Pa. Of Samuel, Mary, Elizabeth, Obediah, Paul and Jeremiah, there are only birth records.

Dinah married Edward Kettle-[8508] [MRIN: 2735] on 27 Mar 1762 in W. Greenwich, Kent Co., Rhode Island.

38. Samuel Tarbox Sr-[8503], son of John Tarbox Jr.-[10006] and Margaret Unknown-[10007], was born on 25 Sep 1736 in RI.

The Tarbox family is an old English one. The curious name, oncedrawn Tarbocke and Torbock, commemorates the Danish invasion of England, more than twelve centuries ago. It was originally Thor's bockof beck, i.e. the god Thor's brook. The stream still runs by the old Tarbox Hall, six miles from Liverpool. Some of Lois Matteson's descendants have the coat-of-arms, an elaborate escutcheon with two full-length figures as supporters at the sides. The motto's meaning is "Destiny Separates, but Inclination Unites."

John Tarbox came to Lynn, Mass., by 1630. He was one of the first iron-workers, and turned out the first kettles ever made in America. After John -1-, came John -2-, who came to East Greenwich about 1695. During the French and Indian War he was captured at Oswego. Again at the Crown Point expedition, he was made a prisoner, and remained so a year, dying on the coast of Africa in 1759. Samuel, his son, was then a grown young man, and married Lois three years after his patriotic father's death.

Of their large family of children, John Whipple, Benjamin, Margaret and Wealthian all married and moved to other parts, and their children are unknown. David's son Anthony left three daughters. Samuel had two children, John and Edith, but their children are unknown.

Samuel married Lois Matteson-[8504] [MRIN: 2734] on 1 Sep 1762 in Rhode Island.

48. William Longmire-[5414],¹ son of George Longmire-[9209] and Anne -[5417], was born on 4 Feb 1704 in London, Middlesex, England and died about 1749 in King George, Virginia about age 45.

General Notes: 1 NOTE William Longmire, The Immigrant

1. William Longmire was born in London England to George and Ann Longmire. He was baptized in 1704, and probably born that same year. To date, that's all we have on him until his arrest in October 1725.

Evidently, when William was about 21, he and a couple of his buddies were loitering on a street corner when a "Gentleman, deep in his cups" (a drunk property owner) staggered out into the street. They started teasing him a little bit, maybe poking at him, and the drunk "gentleman" lost his hat. William, who was destined for a life in America, picked up the hat. The problem is, he didn't give it back. He ran down the street with it taunting him further. And that's how William got arrested.

The resulting charge: "Wm Longmire accused of accosting a gentleman on the Kings Hwy and stealing his hat worth 5 shillings." There is no record of an adequate defense and William was sentenced to hang.

Captain Charles Whales of the Rappahannock Merchant ship "purchased" William from the New Gate prison and brought him to America to labor in the colonies for 14 years. William departed England in November 1725, and arrived in Virginia in April 1726. His death is a matter of Virginia record 1748-49.

William had three known sons: 1.1 George (the oldest), 1.2 Charles (my line), and 1.3 William (the youngest).

William Longmire was our immigrant ancestor. He was christened on February 4, 1704 at St. Andrew Parish, Holborn, London Co., London, England, as was his sister, Anne, on February 14, 1706. According to Peter Wilson Coldham's "The Complete Book of Emigrants in Bondage, 1614-1775", William Longmire was tried in the London court in October 1725 and sentenced to "transportation" for 14 years. I have not been to London to research the court records, but Lianne Clause Longmire has. According to what she told me, William and some friends were standing on a street corner in London. A man "deep in his cups" staggered by and the boys jostled and teased him, and his hat fell off. William grabbed it and ran up the street with the hat. The resulting charge was "William Longmire was accused of accosting a gentleman on the Kings Highway and stealing a hat worth 5 schillings." He was found guilty and sentenced to hang. There was no record of adequate defense. He was incarcerated in Newgate prison and was later sold to Capt. Charles Whale, owner of the merchant ship "Rappahannock", for transportation to the colonies of America. He left London in November 1725 and arrived in Virginia in April 1726. He was issued a Landing Certificate on his arrival. He probably served time as an indentured servant to some plantation owner since I find him in no Virginia records until 1738. According to the time frame, he would have been 35 if he served his full term. Many entries in "Deed Abstracts of King George Co., VA, 1735-1752", show William Longmire witnessing various documents, such as deeds, estate inventories, apprentice bonds, etc. The first entry found was dated March 1738 and the last was dated June 3, 1748.

The King George Co., VA Order Book #2, p. 619, dated March 3, 1749, states: "The nuncupative will of William Longmire, Dec'd was presented into Court by Susanna Longmire." (a nuncupative will is an oral will that must later be reduced to writing). A notation on the book entry stated that no will was found in the records. An inventory of his estate was recorded in Inventory Book #2, p. 47, dated June 2, 1749.

William Longmire, was indicted for Assaulting Thomas Warren on the Highway, putting him in fear, and taking from him a Hat val. 5 s. Sept. 1.

Thomas Warren thus deposed: Crossing Lincoln's-Inn-Fields, between Nine and Ten at Night, the Prisoner came by me, turn'd about, and look'd me full in the Face. I pass'd him, and he follow'd me. I went into the White Dragon Alehouse in Holborn, and he soon came in after me. I did not tarry long before I came out again. I saw no more of the Prisoner till I came to the Corner of Leather-Lane, and there he suddenly stept to me, knock'd me down, snatch'd off my Hat, and ran down the Lane. He endeavour'd to take my Wig too, but I made shift to hold it fast; and crying out, stop Thief, he was quickly taken and brought to me again.

Benjamin Mills thus deposed: I heard somebody cry, stop Thief, whereupon I and another pursued the Prisoner, who fell down; and so we took him and brought him back to Mr. Warren, who was coming to meet us as well as he could, for he was a little disguis'd in Drink; and by the way we found Mr. Warren's Hat.

James Noblet swore to the same Effect, and the Jury found the Prisoner Guilty. Death.

Upon Thursday, the 28th of October, the Report of the above-mentioned seven Malefactors under Sentence of Death was made to their Excellencies the Lords Justices in Council, and two of them, viz. William Longmire for a Street Robbery, and John Steele for returning from Transportation, receiv'd his Majesty's gracious Reprieve. If any of the Magistrates on the Bench, any of the Jury, or of Witnesses, who appear'd as Evidences against the said Malefactors, be desirous to know any thing more particularly, concerning their Behaviour, or Confessions before Death, or at the time of it, What for your information, we can farther add, is as fallows.

Foster Snow, of the Parish of St. Giles's in the Fields, was condemn'd for the Murder of Thomas Rawlins, by giving him, with a Knife, one mortal Wound, of the length of nine Inch, and depth of seven Inches, of which he instantly died. He was a second time indicted on the Statute of Stabbing. And a third time on the Coroners Inquest, for the said Murder. The Jury found him guilty of each Indictment; the Murder being evidently prov'd against him upon the Depositions of several Witnesses; neither did he adduce any thing in his own Vindication, but only some who knew him depos'd that he was an honest, peaceable Neighbour.

=====William Longmire was sentenced to death yet somehow managed a reprieve and was given a 14 year indenture to be served in the American colonies. He was transported by Captain Charles Whale on the Rappahannock Merchant and arrived at Port Royal 6 months later, right in the heart of the Northern Neck area of Virginia. To which plantation owner he went we don't know. However, it's apparent that he was released from his indenture approximately 3 years early. Shortly thereafter William was called as a witness in a 1737 court case, then later is found to be witnessing many deeds and several wills, also appraising estates in King George Co, Va into the early 1740's. How this change in fortune came about is still unknown, however it's quite apparent that William was trusted by respected members of his community. Later still he is found to be working for Captain Edward Dixon, a merchant who had ties to London, Bristol, and Glasgow. William is also found to have served on several juries at the K.G. Co Courthouse. Of interest is the fact that Edward Dixon's father-in-law was Col Thomas Turner II, a very large landowner and Clerk of the Court for K.G. Co - a very prestigious position in those days. William's entries for credit, money exchanges, and merchandise are well documented and are held in Washington, D.C. at the Library of Congress as part of the Edward Dixon Papers. Many examples of his fine penmanship, as well as that of his signature where he actually receives items for Col Turner can be found there.

Not only did William end up working for some interesting fellows in King George Co, Va as a trusted employee in a merchant/store capacity, but the legacy of his descendants is quite impressive. Those Longmires who are notable direct descendants include: several generations of doctors, including a world-renowned surgeon who helped found the UCLA School of Medicine, a gentleman who led the first wagon trains over the Cascade Mountains AND mapped out and led the first expeditions to the summit of Mt Ranier, two State Senators, several inventors, a slew of professors and physicists, including one who worked with Teller and Oppenheimer, and of course William's 3 Colonial pioneer sons and their families who helped make it all happen.

Also, it has been speculated, but not proven, that William Longmire m. Susannah Marshall. William's marriage to his wife, Susannah, undoubtedly took place in the 1730's but no record of the date has been found. It also appears that William was released from his indenture early as shown by his presence in court as early as 1737 where he was paid for 5 days service. If he was still under the auspices of a master at that time I believe the record would have stipulated payment to go to said master.

While looking through the Edward Dixon Papers at the Library of Congress I came across a puzzling entry. In the merchant accounts is an item where evidently someone made an order/purchase and notes "Nightingale at Longmire's place" as the purchaser. My ancestor, William Longmire b. 1704 London, worked for Edward Dixon in Port Royal, King George Co, Va in the 1740's. This is of interest to me because William Longmire's will has a Martha Knighton as a witness ca 1749. I am interested in knowing if anyone knows who this Nightingale may be and/or if they may have some relation to the Knightons/Knightens of King George Co, Va. Thanks.

Susannah married William Longmire-[5414] [MRIN: 1769].

52. Christopher Haynes-[5388]¹ was born in 1731 in Greenville, SC and died in 1763 in Philadelphia, Philadelphia Co., PA at age 32.

General Notes: 1 NOTE Came to US in 1748

Christopher Haynes (Haines) had studied German and French in Europe. His family lived in England. A British Captain was commissioned to come to the colonies to oversee British interests before the Revolutionary War. The captain needed an interpreter to speak with German and French immigrants and Christopher Haines was hired to do this. After the captain was recalled to England, Christopher remained in America. He married and had three children (George, Christopher, Eve) and moved his family to Philadelphia, PA. Then he went into business with two women. Christopher became ill and died. The two partners moved the business from America to England. At the time of Christopher's death, the business was appraised at $5,000,000 in value (pounds are assumed). With the father dead, and the business gone, the mother was forced into poverty. The Philadelphia courts awarded the children to foster homes for care. George Haynes was assigned to a foster home belonging to Germans. This apparently accounts for the fact that the "Haynes" name was originally of German descent.

158. John Greene-[3467], son of James Greene-[8838] and Elizabeth-[8860], was born about 1688.

General Notes: " WHITE HAT " JOHN GREENE! Frank L. Greene thinks -he was born about 1688 ; I should put it two years earlier, reckoning from the other children's ages. He was Lieut. John, an officer of the home militia or Minute Men ; but as his uncle, Lieutenant John, is always spoken of by that title, I shall not use it. There were, beside the uncle, two cousins of his, all named John Greene, and a half dozen Warwick John Greenes in the next township. Two nicknames served to distinguish this John of Benjamin from the others. One was " Lord John," perhaps from a haughty or consequential air. The other was " White Hat John," which shows he had a few eccentricities, and is the more human to us because of it. He bought land in West Greenwich in 1733, eight years before it was set off into a town (township) by itself, so he was something of a pioneer.

About 1709 he married. Some histories say Oct 13, 1726, but that was the date he receipted for his wife's portion of her father's estate. His wife was Mar>', daughter of Arthur and Marj' (Brown) Aylesworth. She was a sister to Arthur Aylesworth, who married Rachel Greene, daughter of Daniel, and a cousin to Elizabeth, John Greene of Bristol's wife. She was a granddaughter of Rev. Chad Brown, the first regular minister at Providence, (if Roger Williams is not counted), and also a granddaughter of Elder Obediah Holmes, of whom more is told in Chapter XX. She was the mother of 15 children, three of whom died young. After she died "White Hat " John married Mrs. Priscilla Bowen, Aug. 7, 1741. He died in 1756, leaving a good estate. 12 children, 2 daughters and 10 sons, lived to marry: Thomas, Philip, Benjamin, Elizabeth, Ruth, William, Josiah. Amos, Jonathan, Caleb, Joseph and Joshua.

The church records for Neckarau, home of Christoffel Meckendorfer only begin with 1650. In fact very few church record in Germany exist for the period before 1648-50. The Thirty Years War devastated most of Germany and left towns, villages and churches in ruins and one third of the population dead. So in the years after the War, which ended in 1648 there was a vast reshuffling of people, moving about looking for new homes and rebuilding old ones. I recently checked the Neckarau records to see if earlier researchers missed anything and did find this very significant piece of information:

Inserted in the early baptisms-

Anno 1653- hatt sich Jacob Christoffel Meckendorffer am 27th May angegeben vom Papistishen glauben zum Reformierten sich zu bekehren...etc.

Translated this says- On 27 May Jacob Christoffel Meckendorffer announce that he had converted from Papist [ie. Catholic] belief to the Reformed faith. It goes on to say that as a result of his confession of faith he was admitted into membership in the Reformed Church.

There are no Catholic records for Neckarau for those years.
